14. Consistency of the empirical distribution The empirical distribution function $F_n(x)$ is defined as the fraction of the sample X_1, \dots, X_n that are less than or equal to x . The empirical distribution function $F_n(x)$ is a step function that is non-decreasing and has values between 0 and 1. The empirical distribution function $F_n(x)$ is a good approximation of the true distribution function $F(x)$ if the sample size n is large enough. Building on the success of the first round, the second round of the competition will be held in 2007. The competition is open to all countries in the world, and the winning team will receive a cash prize of \$100,000. The competition is organized by the International Society for the Study of the Mind-Body Connection (ISSMBC).

The first and the largest of the 100,000 to 200,000 patients who are diagnosed by a physician each year in Canada as having a chronic form of chest inflammation or degeneration of heart muscle is said by physicians to present a serious risk to survival.

By [illegible]

MANILA, Jan. 10 (PNS) — Two senators and judges have rejected the defense claims of bias against the Philippine National Police (PNP) in the case of the late Senator Juan Ponce Enrile. The senators, Enrile and [illegible], along with judges [illegible] and [illegible], voted to reject the defense claims.

The defense claims that the PNP was biased against Enrile during the investigation of his death. However, the senators and judges found no evidence to support these claims. They concluded that the PNP acted impartially throughout the process.

Mixed blessing from Year of Water Dragon

By [Name]
 The Year of the Water Dragon has been a mixed blessing for the Philippines. While the country has seen some economic growth, it has also experienced significant challenges, including natural disasters and political instability. The government is working to address these issues and ensure a bright future for the country.

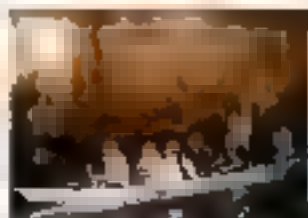

PH seen to benefit from Asean tourism plan

Strategy to promote region as a single destination

By Bernard L. Go

MANILA, Jan. 13 (AP) — The Philippines is expected to benefit from a new strategy to promote the ASEAN region as a single destination for tourists, according to a report by the ASEAN Tourism Secretariat. The report, titled "ASEAN Tourism Strategy 2015-2025," outlines a plan to boost tourism in the region by focusing on key themes such as "ASEAN as a Single Destination," "ASEAN as a Safe Destination," and "ASEAN as a Sustainable Destination." The Philippines is one of the member states of the ASEAN Tourism Secretariat, which is a joint venture between the ASEAN member states and the World Travel & Tourism Council. The report also highlights the importance of tourism in the ASEAN region, noting that it is a major source of foreign exchange and employment. The Philippines is expected to benefit from the strategy, as it is a popular tourist destination and a member of the ASEAN Tourism Secretariat.

Local coal output rose to 7.61M MT in 2011

By Anna C. Lopez

MANILA, Jan. 13 (AP) — Local coal output rose to 7.61 million metric tons in 2011, up from 7.45 million metric tons in 2010, according to the Department of Energy. The increase was driven by a rise in production from the Cebu and Negros Oriental regions. The Department of Energy also reported that the Philippines' coal production capacity is expected to reach 10 million metric tons by 2015. The country's coal production is primarily used for power generation, with the Philippines being a member of the ASEAN Coal Association. The association aims to promote coal production and trade within the ASEAN region.

LET reopens project addresses sea erosion

MANILA, Jan. 13 (AP) — The Local Executive Team (LET) has reopened a project to address sea erosion along the coast of the Philippines. The project, which was previously closed, aims to improve the coastal infrastructure and protect the area from sea erosion. The LET is a joint venture between the Philippine government and the private sector. The project is expected to be completed by the end of 2013. The LET also reported that the project will create jobs and boost the local economy.

Mixed blessing

MANILA, Jan. 13 (AP) — The Philippines' mixed blessing of being a member of the ASEAN Tourism Secretariat and the ASEAN Coal Association is highlighted in a report by the Department of Energy. The report notes that while the Philippines benefits from the ASEAN Tourism Secretariat, it also faces challenges from the ASEAN Coal Association. The Philippines is a member of both organizations, but it is not a major coal producer or consumer. The report also highlights the importance of tourism in the ASEAN region, noting that it is a major source of foreign exchange and employment. The Philippines is expected to benefit from the strategy, as it is a popular tourist destination and a member of the ASEAN Tourism Secretariat.

PN's seen testing new highs

MANILA, Jan. 13 (AP) — The Philippine National Bank (PNB) is expected to test new highs in the coming months, according to analysts. The PNB is a major financial institution in the Philippines, and its performance is closely watched by investors. Analysts predict that the PNB's stock price will rise as the company reports strong earnings and growth. The PNB is also expected to launch new products and services in the coming months.

Red Box expands food offerings

Red Box is a convenience store chain that has recently expanded its food offerings. The company has added a variety of new food items to its menu, including sandwiches, salads, and soups. This expansion is part of Red Box's strategy to become a one-stop shop for customers. The company has also added a new section to its stores, dedicated to food and beverages. This section will feature a variety of food items, including fresh produce, deli items, and prepared foods. Red Box's expansion into food offerings is a response to the growing demand for convenience food. The company believes that this expansion will help it to attract more customers and increase its sales.

Global yield hunters emerge from hibernation

Investors slowly making their way into the equities market

After a period of hibernation, global investors are slowly making their way into the equities market. The market has been relatively flat, with a slight uptick in activity. The market is still in a state of uncertainty, but investors are beginning to see the potential for growth. Kodak bankruptcy dums Hollywood star

Kodak's bankruptcy filing has led to the dismissal of a lawsuit against the company. The lawsuit was filed by a Hollywood star, who claimed that Kodak had breached a contract. The court has ruled in favor of Kodak, stating that the contract was not enforceable. This decision is a significant blow to the star, who had been relying on the lawsuit for financial support. The star is now facing financial difficulties, and it is unclear how they will be able to pay back the money they borrowed from Kodak.

Amazon opens center in India

Amazon has opened a new center in India, marking a significant expansion of its operations in the country. The center is located in a major city and is expected to create thousands of jobs. Amazon's presence in India has been growing steadily, and this new center is a testament to the company's commitment to the Indian market. The center will focus on research and development, as well as on providing support to Amazon's Indian customers. This move is expected to further solidify Amazon's position as a leading e-commerce company in India.

Intel names CMO, a possible CEO successor

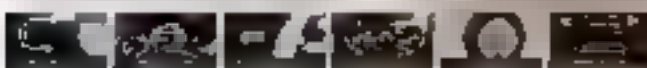

Intel has named a new Chief Marketing Officer (CMO), who is also being considered as a potential successor to the CEO. The new CMO is a highly experienced executive with a long history in the technology industry. His appointment is seen as a strategic move by Intel, as he will be responsible for overseeing the company's marketing efforts and for building a strong relationship with its customers. The fact that he is also being considered for the CEO position suggests that Intel is looking for a leader who can drive the company's growth and innovation.

Practical surprises for the Chinese New Year

The diagram illustrates the experimental setup for studying the effect of solution concentration on reaction rate. It features a reaction vessel with a stirrer and thermometer, connected to a gas collection system consisting of a gas syringe and a gasometer. The setup is designed to measure the volume and pressure of gas evolved during the reaction, which is initiated by a catalyst.

CHEF BOWL SPECIAL

Chowking Elevates a New Level of Deliciousness for the Chinese New Year

The Chinese New Year is a time of celebration and joy, and Chowking is proud to be a part of it. This year, we've introduced a new level of deliciousness with our Chef Bowl Special. This special bowl is a perfect blend of traditional Chinese flavors and modern culinary techniques. It's a dish that's both comforting and exciting, and it's the perfect way to celebrate the Chinese New Year. The Chef Bowl Special is a new addition to our menu, and it's a dish that's both comforting and exciting. It's a dish that's both comforting and exciting, and it's the perfect way to celebrate the Chinese New Year.

TIP moves ahead in outcomes-based education

MANILA—The Department of Education (DepEd) is moving forward with its outcomes-based education (OBE) program, despite the challenges it faces. The agency is currently in the process of implementing the program in various schools across the country. The OBE program is a significant shift from the traditional content-based curriculum to one that focuses on the learning outcomes of students. This approach aims to ensure that students are equipped with the necessary skills and knowledge to succeed in the 21st-century workforce. The DepEd is working closely with various stakeholders, including teachers, parents, and the private sector, to ensure the successful implementation of the program. The agency is also providing ongoing support and training to teachers to help them adapt to the new curriculum. The OBE program is expected to be fully implemented by 2025, with the goal of improving the quality of education and the employability of graduates.
